Brainstorm & Idea Prioritization Template:

Brainstorming is a collaborative process used to identify innovative ideas and select the most effective solution for a problem. During the ideation phase of this project, different approaches to improving metro ticket booking were discussed and evaluated based on feasibility, automation capability, user convenience, and implementation using ServiceNow.

The objective was to design a digital ticket booking system that minimizes manual effort, reduces waiting time, and provides passengers with a quick and secure method of booking metro tickets. After evaluating multiple ideas, the Metro Ticket Generating System was selected as the best solution because it automates ticket booking, fare calculation, QR code generation, and user notifications through ServiceNow.
